Scenes of Havoc in World's Financial Center.

The pictures shown above were taken a few minutes after last Thursday's tragedy in the metropolis of the United States. (1) All that remained of horse and wagon following blast; it is the belief of the police that the wagon carried the infernal machine with a clockwork time fuse, was driven to Wall and Broad streets and left standing. (2) A small section of the great crowds that gathered following the explosion; troops were called out to hold them back, as they were interfering with the work of removing the dead and injured. (3) View showing what happened to an automobile that was standing on Wall street not far from the place where the blast occurred. (4) This picture shows what happened to the walls of a building across the street from the Morgan offices; the stone facing was shattered completely by the force of the explosion. (5) Bodies of a few of the thirty-five victims of the explosion whose lives were taken. These bodies were removed as soon as possible. The police had a hard struggle to keep the crowds away, as many of those who surged through the streets were looking for relatives.

CAR IS FORCED OVER BANK BY ROAD HOG WHO SPEEDS AWAY

LODI, Sept. 20.—Lorin A. Handley of Los Angeles, State prohibition enforcement agent, was killed near Galt, nine miles north of here, late tonight, when the automobile in which he was riding was forced over an embankment in escaping another automobile on "Dead Man's Curve," where several other fatal automobile accidents have occurred.

Mr. Handley's automobile was driven, it was said, by a man named DeVine, who was uninjured. The automobile, after leaving the highway, plunged down an embankment, overturning twice. Mr. Handley was brought to a hospital here by an automobile stage, but was dead when he arrived. It was charged the automobile that forced Mr. Handley's machine from the road continued on without stopping. NECK WAS BROKEN.

STOCKTON, Sept. 21.—Lorin A. Handley, State prohibition enforcement agent, was killed in an automobile accident on the State highway north of Lodi about 10 o'clock tonight, according to undertakers' reports from Lodi. Following the accident the body was removed to the Lodi Emergency Hospital and thence to the undertakers' parlors, where an autopsy was performed. Death was caused by a broken neck.

Mr. Handley left San Francisco yesterday afternoon en route to Sacramento, where he was to preside at the Democratic State Convention. Mr. Handley's body was identified by Ray Groves of Los Angeles, who was en route to Sacramento to attend the Democratic State Convention. Mr. Groves will take the body to Los Angeles, according to a telephone message received this morning.

Mr. Handley was one of the leading Democrats of this city and also held important city offices, including that of City Clerk and president of the Board of Public Works. He was elected City Clerk in December, 1910, and, after serving in that office, was appointed to the Public Works Board. He was head of that important department for seven and one-half years, only resigning in July, last, when he was appointed Federal prohibition director for the State, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Mr. Handley was at first distinguished to accept the Federal position, but after some days' consideration he decided to decline it. He resigned as president of the Board of Public Works on July 10, but retained his position as a member of the board, his city appointment was not to expire until Jan. 1, 1921. He left for San Francisco July 15. The prevailing rumor was given a farewell dinner by twenty-eight men who had been associated with him in various offices of the board.

Mr. Handley was born Feb. 12, 1881, at Franklin, Ind. He was the son of Joseph and Mary Handley. He was a descendant of Matthew Handley and Daniel Boone. He married Elizabeth Jane Baldridge at Mt. Carmel, Ill., July 13, 1905.

He attended schools of Johnson county, Indiana, and graduated at Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., in 1902. He graduated from Princeton in 1904; took a course in the law at Princeton Theological Seminary, graduating in 1905. He studied constitutional law and jurisprudence under President Wilson, then head of Princeton.

In 1905 he was called to the chair of mental and moral philosophy at Emporia College, Kansas, teaching international law and economics. In 1907 he resigned and took a position in Occidental College, Los Angeles, where he taught for three years. He became interested in politics and quit his professional life to run for Congress, but was defeated. He was active in what was known as the Good Government Movement.

Joseph Mead, agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is the man who said he saw the "death wagon." He said he had come to Manhattan to serve a summons and that while walking up Broad street noticed an old red delivery wagon in front of the assay office around the corner. The horse appeared broken down, he said, and exploded.

Belgian Rulers Are Greeted to Brazil's Capital.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.) RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 20.—Crowds of merry-makers marched through the streets of the Brazilian capital last night in honor of King Albert and Queen Elisabeth of Belgium, who landed here yesterday afternoon. All the thoroughfares were brilliantly illuminated and Allied and associated nations' colors were conspicuous.

An elaborate program of entertainment for the royal visitors, who are the first King and Queen ever to visit South America, began after their arrival here.

The Uruguayan cruiser Uruguay met the battleship Sao Paulo off Cape Prio, east of this harbor, and fired a salute. She sent a wireless dispatch welcoming King Albert in the name of Uruguay. The King made a gracious reply.

Charge d'Affaires at Mexico City Called Home for Conference With Colby.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Although silent on the subject, the President and the State Department are believed to be seriously considering all aspects of the Mexican situation with a view to determining the advisability of extending recognition to the new government of Mexico.

This is regarded here as the reason for the recent summons to Washington of George T. Sumnerlin, Charge d'Affaires of the American Embassy at Mexico City, who arrived today. Mr. Sumnerlin, who has been in charge of the American interests in Mexico since the recall of former Ambassador Fletcher, conferred for a short time with Undersecretary of State Davis, but has not yet reported to the Secretary of State.

Assurances were given at the State Department that there is no change imminent in this government's policy toward Mexico, and the only official statement regarding the summoning of Mr. Sumnerlin to Washington was contained in the following brief announcement:

TO DISCUSS AFFAIRS.

"Mr. George T. Sumnerlin, American Charge d'Affaires at Mexico City, has arrived in Washington and was at the Department of State today. He is here for consultation regarding Mexican matters generally. It is probable that he will be in Washington a fortnight or more."

From this announcement it is apparent that the President and State Department propose to go thoroughly over the Mexican situation and its many troublesome problems, getting first-hand evidence and observations from Mr. Sumnerlin before any change in policy is proposed to the Oregon government. It is the general view here that Gen. Obregon is friendly disposed to this country and that any proposals that may be made to him conditional to recognition would receive sympathetic consideration.

Men Seen Running Away in Wall Street Before Explosion, Witnesses Say.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Statements by two men, one of whom claims to have seen the "death wagon" which carried the explosive standing near the assay office Thursday, one and one-half hours before the explosion on Wall street occurred, and the other, who claims to have seen three men running away from the scene just before the blast, furnished the most important developments today in the investigations of the disaster.

Other developments included: William Peterson, 29 years old, of Bogota, N. J., died tonight from injuries received in the explosion. He was the thirty-fifth victim.

J. C. Hebben, chemical engineer and explosive expert, declared that the bomb was composed of between 100 and 200 pounds of T.N.T. and picric acid and probably was constructed by an expert.

CHICAGO FEARS RACE RIOTS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Three negroes were besieged for more than an hour in St. Gabriel's Catholic Church on the South Side tonight by a mob of 1000 persons after the negroes had killed a white man, Charles Barrett, who is said to have gone to the rescue of a white girl, insulted by the negroes. They were rescued and placed in jail by squads of policemen sent to avert a possible race riot.

The entire police force was mobilized and several hundred extra policemen were placed around the scene of the trouble, which was at the southeast corner of the stockyards where several thousand negroes are employed.

The negroes who killed Barrett, putting his throat with a razor, were chased several blocks by a continually increasing crowd. They finally dashed into the church. Two hid in the confessional and one back of the altar.

The attention of the committee was attracted to Carroll by a letter bearing his signature soliciting funds from liquor interests for the Cox campaign. The raising of campaign funds in New Jersey by both Republicans and Democrats is to be inquired into rather searchingly to discover to what extent local committees are expected to prove interesting, particularly in view of the recent statement in the Pall Mall Gazette (Democrat) that this organization had done more for the cause than had the Democratic National Committee.

Taft Calls Cox Opportunist.

Declares Democratic Candidate is Not Fearless Statesman. But is Fishing for Union-Labor Vote—Compares Attitude with Harding's.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The so-called independents who, assuming the part of judicial inquiry into issues and candidates, usually end by voting the Democratic ticket, have framed a character for Gov. Cox which Ohioans are not able to identify. They attack Senator Harding as a man of no convictions and contrast Gov. Cox as a fearless statesman, who says what he thinks clearly and with emphasis. The comparison is laughably unjust. We rarely have had a shrewd or political opportunist than the Democratic candidate. He is now deliberately trying to win the votes of labor men by charging, without the slightest evidence, that Harding has been bought by contributors and great capitalists to his campaign fund and will at their behest use the army to terrorize labor and force from it unjust concessions to capital.

HAS NO POWER. The President has no power to use the army in industrial disturbances in a State in time of peace unless he is called upon by the Legislature or Governor of a State for aid in suppressing disorder. He is not State to deal with or unless the lawless violence is obstructing a Federal function, like the mail or something peculiarly within Federal jurisdiction like interstate commerce. When has a President ever used the troops for such a purpose unjustly? We have had instances of the use of Federal troops in Colorado, in Idaho at the Coeur d'Alene and most conspicuously in the Debs rebellion at Chicago and recently at Gary, in Indiana. That they were needed in these cases properly to preserve law and order every one admitted but the law-breaking strikers.

Does Cox wish it to be understood that lawless union-labor agitators can count on him, if elected President, to refuse to do his constitutional and statutory duty to send troops in such cases? Does he propose to ignore the rights of the public to protection from riot and destruction of life and property which is never confined to the parties to the original controversy? Does he wish it to be thought that, unlike Grover Cleveland, he would allow the lawless to be blocked and the flow of interstate commerce to be stopped by Debs and his followers rather than send bayonets to disperse these lawless misrepresentatives of labor?

GOV. COX'S RECORD. Yet his wild charges against Senator Harding on this head necessarily contain the implication that when union-labor leaders resort to violence when he is present, they need not fear his use of the United States troops to suppress it. Gov. Cox's record as Governor in suppressing disorder, like the control of the local authorities has been one of shifting responsibility to the Mayors and charging them with dereliction of duty in not using local police.

When Cox was first nominated for Governor in 1912, his most urgent supporter was Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati, an extreme pacifist, a Socialist, and a Democrat, who was the president of the constitutional convention. Cox and Bigelow promptly stumped the State together in the gubernatorial campaign and were enthusiastically promoted by the union the progressively radical doctrines which were fashionable in those days.

Gov. Cox attacked the National Guard in his first annual message and Bigelow, a member of the Legislature, instituted an investigation of the charges against it, with a great flourish of trumpets, echoed by the yellow press. The attack failed, but the prejudice against the militia had been enhanced. Gov. Cox's indisposition to maintain law and order by use of the militia is well known to local union-labor leaders and explains his popularity with them. It is one of the reasons why Gompers and Morrison favor him against Harding. His attitude necessarily makes lawless violence a more effective means of winning industrial disputes. The opposition of union-labor leaders to the militia is of a piece with that against the constabularies, like those of New York and Pennsylvania. It is the basis of the labor protest against the use of the National Guard to preserve order under Gov. Coolidge's direction in Boston after the police strike.

LABOR NOT INTIMIDATED. Neither policemen nor troops are summoned or ever have been summoned in this country, to compel labor to concede to employers any adjustment of its interests with capital. Gov. Cox knows this as well as anybody. It is chiefly in Bolshevik Russia where troops are used for this purpose.

What, then, is the effect of his words as conveyed to labor. It is that labor ought to have a certain immunity from restraint in the use of lawless violence to force employers to its demands and that troops ought not to be summoned, even though in the interest of the public such violence can only be stopped or avoided by their presence. This is dangerous doctrine, and many present supporters of Gov. Cox will not relish it.

In marked contrast to this we have Senator Harding's just attitude toward labor and capital. He favors trade unions and collective bargaining, but he insists that the equality of power and dealing which organization rightly gives to labor, shall not be enlarged into a tyrannical domination of the right of the employer to conduct his business. He favors voluntary arbitration and a mutual understanding, but he insists that in a matter in which the public is vitally interested, like interstate commerce, the public has rights against employer and employee, and shall be protected from great suffering by arbitrating the differences as in the Esch-Cummins law.

He voted to make a combination to stop interstate commerce in such a controversy an offense against the United States and defended it in a letter to the labor unions of Ohio.

PROPOSED BONUS. Gov. Cox's attitude and language in respect to the proposed bonus to be paid to 4,000,000 unwarmed ex-service men also makes an informing contrast with Senator Harding's. After urging in his acceptance speech, economies of every kind in government expenditure and a reduction of taxation, the Governor says of the ex-service men: "We owe debt to the wounded, but we must realize that considerable compensation is due those also who lost much by the break in their material hopes and aspirations. The sympathy of its heart must inspire intensive thoughtful effort to assist those who saved our life." If this is not intended to be a bid for the support of the 4,000,000 ex-service men, of whom a considerable number seek such a bonus, the words were not well chosen. Yet, Gov. Cox knows well that such a plan as that proposed would put an additional burden of $2,000,000,000 on the government, already weighted down with debt.

He knows that the present Secretary of the Treasury has prophesied disaster to our finances and to the holders of outstanding bonds if such a scheme were adopted. He knows that the plan would make government economies futile and would render impossible any proposal to reduce taxation. But it will be said that Gov. Cox's statement in the Stars and Stripes shows that he is not in favor of a bonus. Does it? He says in effect the bonus ought to have been granted by the Republican Congress when asked, but that the ex-soldiers having suffered through Republican neglect now need not money-help but homes. He does not specify how these are to be granted, but he leaves the impression that not land merely, but financial aid in making them is to be given by the government at a cost no man can calculate. Could political opportunism go further?

Harding, on the other hand, when asked whether he would favor such a plan, said he would not. He said he did not do so for the very reasons which Secretary Houston gives. Who is the trimmer and who the courageous candidate in these two capital instances?

JURY GIVEN BOMB FACTS.

He made an examination of it, finding a bad sore under the collar. He looked at his watch and noticed it was 10:10 o'clock. He told the police, and waited beside the wagon until 11:30 o'clock with the intention of serving a summons on the driver. He was forced to leave in order to serve his other summons. He did not examine closely the contents of the wagon, but described it as an ordinary dilapidated express wagon.

He also told the police the collar worn by the horse was of the "K" type, which was the kind of collar used in the street after the explosion. He also noticed that all the ornamental knobs and other markings had been stripped from the harness. In this, too, his description tallies with that of the material found. He stated that the horse had been recently clipped and that the wagon bore no name, but had some numerals on the side. Police attach considerable importance to Mead's statement.

MEN RUN AWAY. Information that three suspicious looking men were seen running from the scene was furnished by Samuel E. Wellington, president of the W. J. W. Union, who declared he left a lawyer's office in Wall street a few minutes before noon Thursday and as he did, he heard voices calling: "Hurry," "Beat it," "Get out of this."

He looked across the street and saw two middle-aged men, who looked to him like "East Side peddlers," beckoning and calling to a third man on the other side of the street nearer the assay office and across from a telephone booth. The third man, believed to be about 40 years old and described as "greasy looking," was peering into the ramshackle wagon at the curb.

THIRD MAN RUNS. In response to the others the third man, Mr. Wellington said, started to run after them toward William street. He took them for bond thieves, he added, and expected to see them chased by a policeman. When he reached the corner of Nassau street he was knocked unconscious by the explosion.

At the conclusion of Fischer's examination he was sent to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital for observation. He was insane, measures will be taken to have him committed to an asylum, it was announced.

Testimony tending to contradict that of Mead was later furnished by Oscar Rayne, a T.M.C.A. secretary, who said an automobile truck drew up in front of the assay office to carry ashes at 11:45 a.m. Thursday and that other vehicles were parked near there at the time. This was confirmed by the men who took away the ashes.

POWDER IS FOUND. Detective Sergeant James Gagan, who accompanied Federal agents to Plum Island, declared he had found a case of smokeless powder weighing 300 pounds today in the bulk of an old boat.

One of the freak happenings of the explosion became known today when the hands of its messenger near the scene through the third-story window of another firm. The securities were recovered.

Frederick M. Carpenter, 22 years old, a bank clerk, suffering from shattered nerves as a result of his experience in the explosion, jumped to his death today from the roof of the National City Bank.

NEW WARNING SENT. A postcard warning that an attempt would be made tomorrow to blow up the customhouse was received in the mail by William B. Edwards, collector of internal revenue for this district.

This postcard, signed "A Citizen," was turned over to the custodian of the building by Mr. Edwards, who also notified Postmaster Thomas O. Patten. The Department of Justice, too, was informed.

NO PLOT EVIDENCE. The warning said that the customhouse, already under heavy guard, would be blown up at 2 p.m. Mr. Edwards said that a preliminary investigation had shown no evidence of a plot, and he was inclined to regard the warning as a hoax.

A few minutes before the postcard had been received, Edwin P. Fischer, ex-tennis player, who sent warnings of the first explosion, had declared at police headquarters on his arrival here from Canada that "more will happen in the future." "Unseen powers had communicated that to me," he said.

FISCHER WROTE WILSON. Edwin P. Fischer, who is being examined here in connection with the Wall-street explosion last Thursday, in July, 1918, annoyed President Wilson with a series of letters demanding that he end the war, it became known here late today.

At that time Fischer was reported by government agents to be a harmless letter-writing crank and a religious fanatic. No action was taken against him on his promise to stop pestering the President and to keep away from Washington. The record of the investigation is preserved in the archives of secret service headquarters in the customhouse.

These letters, it was learned, urged the President to put an end to the slaughter of human beings, asked that the writer be allowed to visit Washington to confer with Mr. Wilson at the White House. Federal agents admitted today that these letters, mailed here, had been turned over to them, and that they had traced them to Fischer.

LIVE-STOCK MEN APPEAL FOR AID

Tell Reserve Board Destruction Threatens Them.

Predict Dire Consequences if Banks Don't Help.

Credit Extension Needed to Ease Difficulties.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Relief from what was described as possible destruction of the live stock industry through curtailment of banking loans was sought from the Federal Reserve Board today by a committee of live-stock producers. They asked the board to encourage banks of the reserve system to aid them financially in raising and marketing their product.

The committee, which came as the representatives of a Chicago conference of producers, and bankers, predicted dire consequences to the live stock industry throughout the West unless bankers and cattle loan companies discontinue calling loans. They said millions of dollars in loans were maturing this fall and they believed a reassurance from the board that it approved of such credit extension would materially lessen the difficulties with which the live-stock men have to deal.

VITALLY ESSENTIAL.
Gov. Harding said the board's policy has been to look upon the live-stock and other food-producing industries as vitally essential. He explained the board had planned with the reserve banks for aid for the agricultural interests to the extent of nearly $1,000,000,000 this year.

Committee spokesmen told the board that, as a result of the credit situation, the little cowman or sheepman was being forced to dispose of young stock which, if he could borrow more money, would have been kept on the farms and ranges and that in the Pacific Northwest there was an abundance of roughage, but little stock to feed it because of tightened credit.

LEFT TO LOCAL BANKERS.
Senator Jones, New Mexico, blamed eastern bankers for not helping the live-stock men of the West instead of financing automobile manufacturers in exporting their products to Europe.

GOV. HARDING INTERRUPTED.
Gov. Harding interrupted to assure the Senator that the board could not say to member banks that they should or should not loan to the live-stock man. He declared again that it never had defined any industry as essential or nonessential, but had left such decisions to local bankers.

Gov. Harding said he did not believe the producers who were borrowing were employing the credit that they might withhold the meat supply from the market. The board's information, he said, showed the loans to live-stock men, in most all cases, were for actual production purposes. With this sort of use of credit, he said the board was in entire accord.

WANT COMPENSATION LAWS MADE UNIFORM.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT BOARDS ARE IN SESSION IN SAN FRANCISCO.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—A campaign to secure a uniform industrial accident compensation law in the United States is to be started at the seventh annual meeting of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions, which opened here today.
Transfers of maritime and intrastate workers from Federal to State compensation jurisdiction also will be discussed. Representatives of accident commissions from every State and from Honolulu and Canada were invited to attend the convention. It is presided over by Will
J. French, chairman of the California
Industrial Accident Commission.
Speakers who had been asked to address today's conference are E.
B. Ross, Bureau of Standards,
Washington; C. B. Connelley, commissioner of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry; Dr.
P. G. Donoghue, member of the Massachusetts Industrial Accident
Board; George A. Kingston, commissioner, Workmen's Compensation Board, Ontario.

A campaign to expose the few doctors who he alleged were working on the theory that the longer they have an industrial compensation case under treatment the bigger will be their fee, was asked for by Mr. Kingston.

Mr. French said all laws now limited to extra hazardous and hazardous occupations should be extended to all industrial occupation without regard to the extent of hazard.

Gov. Stephens welcomed the delegates in a brief address. He announced that he would be prevented from making his scheduled speech at the session tonight because of an engagement in Sacramento.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Per capita estimates of the amount of coffee consumed last year in the United States, announced today by the Department of Commerce, were 8.99 pounds, the lowest of any year except in 1920, when the consumption was 8.60 pounds.

NAVY DEPARTMENT SEIZES MORE OIL.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—
The naval ship Kanawha appropriated 15,000 barrels of fuel oil today from the docks of the Shell Oil Company for destroyers at the Mare Island navy yard, despite the company's protest. It was the third seizure in three weeks.
The Kanawha had orders to seize 50,000 barrels, but the supply was insufficient.

WALTS ACTION ON JONES BILL

When Delays Carrying On Provision of Law.

No Notice of Abrogation
Commercial Treaties.

No Protest Yet Made by Fran-cers of Measure.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—
The Senate today in administrative business decided to delay carrying on the provisions of Section 34, of the Merchant Marine act, relating to the termination of certain commercial treaties, until Congress reconvenes in December. White House officials, however, refused to discuss the matter.

Section 34 directs the President within sixty days of the signing of the bill—which became law on January 15—to give notice to all countries of the United States, that the treaty rights of any such treaty which relates to this country in imposing dis-crimatory import duties and taxes done on foreign vessels will be terminated.

The time for giving such notice expired September 4, and though the Department was prepared to give the necessary communication before the twenty or more countries affected, the President is unwilling to have halted the action until Congress reconvenes.

WALTS ON CONGRESS.
Consideration of Section 34 by the Senate is awaited by the President's officials, on the ground that the significance of its provisions is not appreciated at the time of passage. Notice of the intention of the United States to terminate such actions as restrain the imposition of discriminatory charges on official vessels, would result in the abrogation of about twenty commercial treaties.

A safety razor that strops its own blades

No skill necessary
To remove the fine line edge of the AutoStrop Razor blade, just slip the strop through the razor head and pass the razor back and forth. You don't have to take the razor apart nor even remove the blade.

Like the leaf of a book
The AutoStrop Razor blade opens for cleaning like the leaf of a book. To clean, simply rinse and dry. Nothing to unscrew—nothing to take apart and reassemble. The same lever that releases the blade adjusts it for close, medium or light shaving.

SHAVING comfort—that's what every man wants.

Stropping—that's the real factor of shaving comfort!

To get a quick, clean, comfortable shave every morning use the AutoStrop Razor—the safety razor and stropping device combined in one.

Built right into the frame of the AutoStrop Razor is a remarkable self-stropping device—simple and efficient. Just slip the strop through the razor head and move the razor back and forth along the strop. In 10 seconds you have a new, sharp shaving edge! 500 cool, comfortable shaves are guaranteed from every dozen blades!

Get an AutoStrop Razor from your dealer today—it's the best "buy" on the shaving market.

On razors, strops, blades, etc., hereafter manufactured by us we shall apply the trade mark "AutoStrop" as an additional indication that they are the genuine products of the AutoStrop Safety Razor Co., New York.

HARDING GREET'S G.A.R. VETERANS

Delegation Calls on Way to Attend Encampment.

Kentucky and Tennessee Party Also Hear Address.

Ralph H. Cameron of Arizona Confers With Senator.

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)
MARION, O., Sept. 20.—Warning that the League of Nations is full of "known ambiguities" and that it was an ambiguity in our own Constitution that led to the Civil War, Senator Harding today asked a delegation of Civil War veterans and a delegation of Kentucky and Tennessee citizens how they ever can consent to enter into a new world compact with a dozen ambiguities in it.
The senator said that Article X of the League is a "reciprocal pledge on our part to help preserve the independence and territorial integrity of forty-four nations," and that the article and its correlatives clearly contemplate war, if need be, to make this pledge possible.
Asserting that President Wilson had placed the purpose of an obsolete Clayton-Bulwer treaty above our constitutional rights, in requiring tolls from American vessels passing through the Panama Canal, Senator Harding declared:
"Who cares to say that this same sort of logic will not some day be used to plague an unwilling America into foreign war if we unreservedly subscribe to Article X, the Constitution to the contrary notwithstanding?"

CONFERS WITH ARIZONA.

Following a conference with Senator Harding today, Ralph H. Cameron of Phoenix, Ariz., candidate for United States Senator, issued a statement saying the Presidential candidate had given assurance if elected, to support Arizona's claim to Federal aid in her reclamation, good roads and electrical projects.

Both Cameron and Congressman John W. Langley of Kentucky, who accompanied that State's delegation, told Senator Harding that the States were certain to go for him in November.

Senator Harding told the veterans in part:

"I like to think of the blend of Kentucky and Tennessee with the sons of the North who served the Union. I like to think that in 1920 there are few wounds of the Civil War remaining, there are few signs of sectionalism in our national life and there is no one who regrets the winning of the war by the North and the preservation of this wonderful land of ours."

"I like to recall that, after all, there were no very great differences between us. I only think it was a misdirected passion for country. You know there were two schools of American politics from the very beginning. One was the national school and the other was the school of State's rights. The two schools were in conflict from the very beginning of the republic; they waged their warfare with nervous ending intensity until it finally culminated in the great Civil War. In that conflict the question was settled and the United States committed everlastingly to nationality."

AMBIGUITY CAUSED WAR.

"Have you ever stopped to think that we, one people, with naturally one interest, were led into the Civil War by a mere ambiguity in the Federal Constitution? In the beginning we were so divided in our ideas that there was of necessity uncertainty left in the compact that was made and it required the Civil War to wipe it out. And that was a very great price to pay. But remembering that, my countrymen, I want to ask you, knowing the cost of wiping out the ambiguity in the Constitution of our own republic, how can we ever consent to enter into a new world compact with a dozen ambiguities in it?"

"Let me call your particular attention to one: There is much dispute about that which is known as 'the heart of the League.' No American can be simultaneously for Article X and for the Constitution of our republic any more than an American in Lincoln's time could be simultaneously for emancipation and for slavery."

"Let me say right here in passing that I am a deep sympathizer with human being and I wouldn't break the heart of anybody knowingly, but I would rather break the heart of the world than destroy the soul of the United States of America."

RECIPROCAL PLEDGE.

"Article X is a reciprocal pledge on our part to help preserve the independence and territorial integrity of forty-four nations. It all who are invited to join the League do so, committing $5,000,000 square miles of the earth's surface. Article X and its correlatives certainly contemplate war, if need be, to make this preservation possible. In case

DISMISS INDICTMENTS AGAINST SHIPPING MEN

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE.)

SEATTLE, Sept. 20.—Indictments against five prominent Northwest shipping men, charged with fraud in connection with the war-time shipbuilding program, were dismissed in Federal Court today on motion of government counsel. The government's action was taken, it is said, on instructions from Atty.-Gen. A. Mitchell Palmer.

The indictments named C. N. Seaborn, H. C. Osterlander and Phillip S. Morrison, officials of the Seaborn Shipyard Company, Tacoma, and W. A. Magee and Capt. John F. Blain, former northwest district officials of the United States Shipping Board. Dismissal of the charges followed acquittal of seven other defendants of similar charges in Federal court here Friday and Saturday.

The investigation by the government, undertaken at the instigation of the United States Shipping Board, has resulted in the saving of large sums of money to the government, said a statement issued today by Special Government Counsel Ben L. Moore and Bert Schlesinger. "The government will continue to contest all claims that are not meritorious. The dismissal of the pending criminal prosecutions in this particular district does not mean that the government will relax its effort to protect itself against payment of false or improper claims."

EXTRADITE TWO MEN HERE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—Extradition warrants were issued by the Governor's office today against two men under arrest in Los Angeles. One warrant is against James J. Maxwell, wanted in Hot Springs, Wyoming, on a charge of luring forced checks, and the other against Jack Arnold, wanted in Grant county, N. M., on a charge of unlawfully selling mortgaged property.

HEALTH SERVICE CHIEF IS SPEAKER.

EXPERTS HERE DISCUSS CITY'S NEEDS AND SEE SIGHTS OF SOUTHLAND.

Dr. Hugh S. Cummins, Surgeon-General, United States Public Health Service, will be the principal speaker at a health mass meeting at Normal Hill Center tonight. Other addresses will be made by some of the foremost health experts in this country and Canada, who are in Los Angeles after having attended the convention of the American Public Health Association in San Francisco.

About 60 of the visiting doctors attended a smoker at the Chamber of Commerce last night. The meeting was opened by Maynard Meffe, president of the chamber, who later yielded the chair to Dr. Julius Koebitz.

A number of the visitors made short talks on health problems and made some pointed references to conditions in Los Angeles. Among those who spoke were Dr. L. K. Frankel, ex-president of the American Public Health Association, who said all Americans should live to be 100 years old; Paul Hansen, consulting sanitary engineer of Chicago, who discussed modern methods of garbage disposal; Theodore D. LaFreniere, sanitary engineer of the Quebec board of health; Dr. George Clemens Ruhland, health commissioner of Milwaukee; and Dr. Charles Hastings, health officer of Toronto.

Mayor Snyder, City Councilmen, Supervisors and the Chamber of Commerce acted as hosts to the visitors yesterday. The health experts were taken on a sight-seeing trip through the business and residential sections of Los Angeles yesterday morning; visited the Exposition Park Museum later in the day; toured the Long Beach for lunch; and at the Virginia, and wound up with an inspection of Los Angeles Harbor with City Engineer Griffin serving as their guide.

OSTEOPATHS PLAN ON HUGE HOSPITAL HERE.

The first meeting of the year of the Los Angeles County Osteopathic Society was held last night at 741 South Broadway with a large number of osteopaths in attendance.

Dr. R. B. Emery, president of the society, presided.

Discussion at the meeting dealt with the osteopathic hospitals that is to be erected here. A campaign for $2,000,000 is being conducted now, half of which will be used for the building of the hospital, and the other half for improvements in the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Tom Sweeney, who was blinded during the war and who was cured by osteopathic treatment, gave a talk on "The Trojan Way."

COLUMBUS KNIGHTS PILGRIMS ARE HOME.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The steamship Lafayette, arriving here early today from Havre, brought 101 Knights of Columbus led by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, returning from a pilgrimage to France, Italy and Belgium.

They brought gifts from Pope Benedict XV and the French government.

LAST TESTAMENT OF EX-KAISER WRITTEN.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Sept. 20.—William of Hohenzollern, former German Emperor, has written a new will, which is declared to be his last testament.

He has entrusted it to the keeping of Notary Schroter, at Amersongen, says a Doorn dispatch to the Daily Mail.

Steamship Director Dies.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Michael P. Grace of New York, chairman of the board of directors of William B. Grace & Co., a large steamship organization, died today in London, aged 55 years.

—more acres per hour

Perhaps you wonder why Wallis power means more acres per hour. When a company as well known as the J. I. Case Plow Works Company makes a broad statement about its tractor, you are naturally interested, whether you buy or sell farm machines.

You will find the answer in the Wallis exhibit at the show. Every detail of that sturdy, compact tractor tells the story of "more acres per hour." The patented U-Frame that revolutionized tractor design, the cut and hardened steel gears, compact transmission and one-piece flanged wheels—these all spell substitution of great strength for cumbersome weight.

The Wallis has more drawbar horsepower per hundred pounds of weight than any tractor on the market. Because of its light weight, over 74% of its motor power is delivered at the drawbar. That's why the Wallis enables the farmer to do his work when it should be done—to put in his crops when they should be put in.

Jerome I. Case, the founder of this company, laid down the principle of quality which is inherent in every product of the J. I. Case Plow Works Company. And the Wallis is true to this ideal. Quality in material, quality in workmanship, and quality in design stamp the Wallis as AMERICA'S FOREMOST TRACTOR.

DEALERS—Men of vision, who know the needs of the modern farmer, will be particularly interested in the Wallis Tractor. To establish a connection with the J. I. Case Plow Works is to build with permanence as the foundation. You are cordially invited to supplement your study of the Wallis exhibit by a visit to our branch house in Los Angeles.

NOTICE: We want the public to know that the WALLIS TRACTOR is made by the J. I. Case Plow Works Company of Racine, Wisconsin, and is NOT the product of any other company with "J. I. Case" as part of its corporate name.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

WHAT IS LOVE?

BY DOROTHY DIX.

Among my acquaintances is a woman who is a veritable household angel. And she is adored by her family. Anyway, they are never weary of telling her and other people how they love her, and she believes them, for in his mercy God ordained that even the cleverest woman should be of an idiotic trustfulness and credulity where her heart is concerned.

Now this woman is as frail and as delicate as a flower. She is one of the women who must be shielded and cared for like a hothouse plant if she is going to live, but apparently these members of her own household, who say they are so devoted to her, have never once noticed how thin she has grown, how tired she looks, how she droops in her chair.

Her old mother, who lives with her, blesses heaven for having bestowed upon her such a daughter, but she makes daughter take a thousand unnecessary steps a day to gratify that, thank goodness, they gave all the affection and appreciation she craved.

And they would be furious if you told them that none of them ever really loved her, that all they loved was themselves, and that their feeling for the woman was measured in terms of their own selfishness and what she did to make life pleasant for them, and that they would do it because life generally is as it is.

The husband loves his wife so well that he will never let her go away from home, even for a week's end, and simply laughs to scorn the doctor's order that she must go to a rest cure for three months. Other men may let their wives go north in summer and south in winter. He is so devoted to his wife that he is lost when she is away. Why, the house is empty, and nothing goes right, and he can't think of a thing to do. Why, it upsets him for a whole evening for her not to be waiting at the door for him when he comes home at night. And he puts himself on the chest and sobs out with a sense of being the model lover husband because he is so devoted to his wife that he keeps her nailed to her own fire side.

And the children tell you they have got the best mother on earth, and the dearest mother, and the sweetest mother, and the girls will let her sit up half the night to make them trilly party dresses, and urge her on by telling her that Susie Brooks has real embroidery on her frock, and won't she put a little more on theirs. And the boys scatter their clothes and belongings all over the house, and call for mother to hunt their caps and balls and bats, and double her work by needless clutter.

And the curious part of it all is that these people really believe they love the woman they are murdering, and when they have got in their deadly work and she lies at rest in her coffin, they will weep above her and say, self-righteously:

MAKING MORE MONEY.

Sentenced for Life to Invalid Chair, Pasadena Man Makes Garden and Raises Rabbits

"It's doubtful if you will ever be able to move hand or foot again. You are a helpless invalid." This was the sentence which the attending physician passed upon Charles H. Jury of Pasadena, Cal., but Jury refused to accept it. That he might be an invalid for the rest of his life was not only possible but probable. An exceptionally severe case of rheumatism had attended to that, twisting his arms and legs almost into knots and rendering him incapable of moving without the assistance of others. But as for "helpless" part of it, well, Jury felt that as long as he had his will power and his ambition, he wasn't going to be entirely dependent.

For the first ten months he lay flat on his back, thinking things over and wondering what in the world he could do. He could not even turn over without help. Then, little by little, Jury mustered the ounce of his determination, he gradually gained control of a few of his muscles and, by the time he was permitted to be wheeled about his garden, he had made up his mind that he would make the most of his situation.

His garden was his hobby, and it was there that he had made up his mind to make a little money, handicapped as he was. After a week of constant painful effort, he found he could hold a hoe, and finally he managed to wheel his chair back and forth, digging up little patches of ground with a specially-made spade. Then he started to raise carrots, cabbage and radishes for the market. He let-landed each of them with love, and making certain that each was a perfect specimen of its kind. Some one has to catch the rabbits for him, of course, but he does all the rest of the work. In fact, the fact that he never placed in bed, "making money," says Jury, "is a matter of physical ability, but of determination."

And the creature comforts he brings in.

The parents who sacrifice their children's lives to themselves, who keep a daughter bound like a slave to them because they do not want to be waited on by hired hands or prevent a son following a career because they cannot bear to be parted from him, only love themselves. They do not love their children.

It is no excuse to say that people do not think that a man neglects his wife, that a wife is cross and hateful to her husband, that children rob their parents and parents sacrifice their children unconsciously. Real love never forgets. It is never blind. It is always sister Anne-on-the-household looking out for the welfare of its beloved. There is just one test of love. It is preferring another before yourself. It's thinking of that other first and all the time.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Question: Can airplane motors be started in the air? R. M. K.

Answer: The air service says that airplane engines are continually started in the air, after having been voluntarily cut off, by putting the airplane in a diving position. The force of the air against the blades of the screws is sufficient to turn the engine over and start it going. Many airplanes are being fitted with self-starters.

Q: Is the grain we call corn known as corn the world over?

A: Corn is a term often used for the important cereal crop of a given region; thus in England corn usually means wheat; in Scotland, oats; in Ireland, barley; while in this country it means maize.

Q: Why are London policemen called Bobbies?

A: The name was taken from that of Sir Robert Peel, who created the Irish Constabulary, also known as Peesles. The names spread to England.

Q: I wish information on the duty charged on clothing and jewelry going from and returning to this country.

A: The Department of Commerce says there is no duty on personal effects and jewelry owned by persons leaving the country. New clothing and jewelry up to $100 are admitted free.

Q: What is the difference between a deserter and a draft dodger?

A: An army deserter is a soldier who abandons the service without leave and with no intention to return. A draft dodger is one who fails to report to his draft board, and was, therefore, never inducted into the service.

Q: How are the sales of manganese ore made?

A: Manganese ore is usually sold on a basis of so many cents per unit of manganese oxide in excess of 40 per cent.

Q: What is a chinook wind?

A: This is a name given to a strong, warm, and dry south or west wind, descending the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains into Montana and Wyoming, evaporating or melting the snow and bringing great relief in cold weather. The name was probably given it, because it blew from the territory occupied by the Chinook Indians.

Q: Was it necessary for the government to advertise for black walnut in order to obtain the needed gun stocks and airplane materials during the war?

A: While the government did advertise for this wood, this was found unnecessary. Walnut is not as plentiful as such woods as oak or even hickory and ash, but it is plentiful enough to supply the world with an average annual cut of 50,000,000 feet of lumber. This production was maintained for many years prior to the war, most of the wood going abroad. Since the war, very little has been sent out of this country. American industries are now consuming walnut at the rate of 50,000,000 feet a year.

Q: I have been told that when a Civil War veteran dies he receives no pension for the part of the current quarter. I thought a pension continued up to the day of death.

A: The Pension Bureau says that a soldier's pension is, by law, payable quarterly if he dies between quarterly pay days he can, of course, himself receive no pension for the part of a quarter which has elapsed since his last payment. The accurate pension covering such a period may, however, be paid to his wife or to a minor child under sixteen years of age if he leaves no widow. And if he leaves no such relative it can only be paid to reimburse the person who bore the expense of his sickness and burial in case he did not leave sufficient assets to meet such expense.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Stump Speakers Loom.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I was born in 1837 and was much interested in political campaigns beginning with the Polk and Dallas campaign. I don't remember any candidate for President going around electing for himself until 1860. Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois succeeded in splitting the Democratic party and getting the nomination of one of the party. Having a phenomenal capacity for stump speaking, he entered heartily into the campaign, hoping to secure his own election. I remember the remarks I heard made about what an undignified thing it was for him to do. How he was belittling the great office for which he was a candidate. Douglas was not elected. He did not even carry his own State of Illinois, where he had hitherto been considered almost supreme. Since that day I do not remember the success of any candidate who went around the country making stump speeches in his own interest. On the contrary I remember the splendid success of Garfield and McKinley, who remained at home and addressed every delegation who came for the elucidation of any point in which they were especially interested. I feel very sure that if Mr. Hughes had remained at home he would have carried California and been elected President. I hope Mr. Harding will not abandon his front porch for a canvass in the field.

THOS. W. LIPPINCOTT.

Corrects a Rumor. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have heard it often stated of late, and it appears to be a quite general impression, that the Republican Standard bearer, Hon. W. G. Harding, has been once defeated for Governor of his State by Gov. Cox.

Unless I am misinformed, W. G.

Harding has never made the race for Governor of Ohio. He has served several times in the State Legislature, also one term as Lieutenant Governor, and was subsequently elected to the United States Senate, running far ahead of the normal vote.

I believe Gov. Cox once defeated a man by the name of Harding (not W. G.) for Congress from his district and this probably accounts for the misinformation so prevalent.

It seems to me that, in justice to the Republican candidate for President, this erroneous impression should be promptly and emphatically corrected as its tendency is misleading and malicious as regards the strength of the two leading candidates in their home State.

Very truly yours,
H. L. ALEXANDER.

The MacSwiney Mixup.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] May I ask how it happened The Times' regular downtown church reporter missed St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral Sunday evening? He ought to have been there and heard Dean MacCormack's masterly presentation of the much-discussed "MacSwiney incident." Unfortunately the church named is out-of-date, and its acoustics very much the same, so that I venture to say one-half the congregation must have failed in a satisfactory appreciation of the preacher's address. For that reason, doubtless, a number of your subscribers were disappointed, on looking over their Monday morning's Times to find no reference thereto. It was the writer's experience, in common with another relic of the Civil War episode—to be thus unhappily handicapped.

However, by comparing notes we managed to arrive at the pith of the dean's talk, which by unanimous consent was approved as good, sound, common sense doctrine. He boldly takes the stand that it would be a sad day for old Ireland should the Sinn Feiners succeed, through their terrorizing methods of assassinations, murders and incendiarism, in accomplishing their lawless purposes.

Referring to the MacSwiney episode the Dean couldn't see what bearing or influence might be extracted in the interest of Ireland's independence through the self-destruction of a lot of convicted law-breakers. The world isn't likely to regard as martyrs or heroes—unless the idea sounds foolish. It's worse than that: it's cowardly. I don't care how much harm a man has—the more harm the better for political or social ends. It's unmanly—indeed, it's a violation of the instinct of our human nature to do harm to our fellow-men.

G. A. MANNING.

Disobedience. The most disobedient of men was that of a woman who bought a house because she thought the tree which shaded the property was beautiful.

Before she moved into the house she had to pay several hundred dollars for the property because she had a recent thunderstorm down the tree. The tree had been the neighbor's fault. The neighbor's repairs will cost the owner a fortune.

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it."—Mrs. SEAN C. STAPLES, 127 B School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was taken with a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me." I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell any one who writes to me the good it has done me."—Mrs. MARGARET DANZ, 743 N. 25th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The straw hat is doing away with the party umbrella. Considerable.

Senator Harding is to be in the front porch and Gov. Cox is to be in the office.

Our idea of a political future is to have it after the election of 1920.

With the coming of the new year, the average man who thinks in terms of money has a lot to say about the price of automobiles.

What has become of all that money? The independent Democrats of New York State are asking.

Gov. Cox says that if he is elected he will keep right on just as he has been. White has a doubt.

It is possible that Gov. Cox is a time some of that "dash" fund for making Democratic speeches. It would not be a bad investment.

Senator Harding will be 52 years of age on November 2, the day of the election to the Presidency.

A party giving his name Charles Henry Randall says he will have raised $50,000 to run for him.

The straw vote in Ohio during the election to the Presidency was a large-sized fly in our champagne.

When Gov. Cox is asked to stand on the prohibition question he replies that he is in favor of forcing the constitution to be amended.

A letter containing three weeks after the election was delivered to a local theater was delivered to a local theater.

Col. Bryan has not yet returned to the Democratic party in the United States.

It is our unbiased opinion that Gov. Cox is right in his decision to keep the United States in the League of Nations.

Criticism was made by a man who said that the League of Nations was a mistake.

William O. McAdams is a man who has been in the United States for a long time.

Senator J. M. Dixon, who was nominated for Governor of California, is the only man who has been in the United States for a long time.

The picturesque residence stood in the center of a large orange grove on the main street of Alhambra, near Marquessa avenue. Mr. Brunner died in 1918. In his early life he was a baker in St. Louis and later made a fortune in the lottery business, which, at that time, was not under the ban of the law. He came to Los Angeles with his family in 1918. The property was for years in litigation. Soon after the decision of the court, confirming the rights of Mr. Brunner in the estate, the old man died from the effects of a stroke of paralysis.

In 1918, Theresa Brunner married Mr. Warnack, a former section hand on the Southern Pacific, and newspaper man who, while passing by the Alhambra mansion on a hand-car one day, expressed a desire to live in the picturesque place. His wife fulfilled many years later when he stood before the quaint Moorish shrine in the house and his devoted wife, who was one of the daughters of the villa's owner.

Adding Bookkeeping Calculating

Burroughs' Machines are divided into three great classes:

Adding—In simple adding and totaling. Burroughs Adding Machines are saving time and money in every line of business from the corner grocery to the billion-dollar corporation. They will print and add figures faster than the writing slate can be done with pen or pencil.

Bookkeeping—Burroughs Bookkeeping Machines are designed to take the place of bookkeeping overbooks. They enter the items, classify them, total debits, total credits, subtract and print the balance—all with amazing accuracy and great rapidity. Burroughs Bookkeeping Machines can be used on either end or both end ledgers.

Calculating—Burroughs Calculating Machines multiply—add—divide—and subtract—without writing down a single figure, giving the correct result in practically the time it takes to read the items to be figured. They do away with check-book figures. Some of the most used applications are figuring royalties, checking business paying freight bills and allowances, figuring chain discounts, preparing estimates, figuring selling prices, profits, etc.

For Every Figure Job in Any Business

In your business as in every other, every figure operation, no matter how complex, falls into one of three classes, adding, bookkeeping or calculating.

Long ago Burroughs foresaw that these three great classifications existed and that figure accuracy was a fundamental business need. Today every Burroughs Machine belongs to one of these three broad types, adding, bookkeeping or calculating—a machine for every figure job.

For Any Business

Many business men thought as you may today, that their business was "too different" or "too peculiar" and that they did not need a Burroughs Machine. Today these same men realize that their Burroughs Machines have been one of their most profitable investments; and that these machines have made it easy for them to secure valuable figure information that they know they need but could never take time to get in any other way. This is true in every existing line of business whether it be retail, wholesale, jobbing, warehouse, manufacturing, or banking.

To learn which type of Burroughs will best fit your business, consult any Burroughs representative. These men are specialists, not only in applying machines to existing needs but in finding new applications at points in your business where greater speed, greater accuracy or both are needed.

COMEDY STAR WEDS.

DEL LORIE MARRIES PERRY PEMBROKE, SCRIBE.

By Grace Kingsley.

Sentencing herself to matrimony last Saturday night was no less a person than pretty Del Lorie, one of the stars of the Hal E. Roach studios. Her companion in fetters is Perry Pembroke, who writes stories for the cut-ups of the L-Ko studios and also directs Billie Armstrong. It is only lately, however, that Mr. Pembroke has been tame. It seems formerly he was a leading man in serials, doing dare-devil stunts. Before this he was stage producer for G. M. Anderson.

The wedding took place at the First Congregational Church in this city, and was as solemn as it could be with the saucy little Mildred Davis, leading woman for Harold Lloyd, taking the part of the bride's maid, and that comical cuss, Roy Brooks, acting as best man. If you banker to know what the bride wore, I can even go that far. She wore a black velvet dress made in prevailing Russian mode and trimmed with ermine, a Russian turban, white Russian gaiters and Russian boots, with a corsage of white orchids.

A short honeymoon trip is being taken by the happy couple, who will be at home at the Blackhawk Apartments. But a real honeymoon tour to Europe is planned as soon as the pair can be released from their film duties, which they hope will be next spring.

DAVE BUTLER SITS

IN ON ORPHEUM SHOW.

It's good occasionally to have a fresh mind brought to bear critically on shows. Such a fresh mind may not David Butler be said to have? The years have it. Dave, who stars in the flapper era, you know, sat alongside me at the Orpheum last night, and kindly piped up his pink thoughts on the show. During his "vacation" Dave used to be every day, only there wasn't any game yesterday, so he decided to take a day off. But he said he didn't mind being a push-league critic for once.

"Those Singers' Medleys with their songlets and stunts certainly had me laughing," said Dave. Also he thought Dora Vieg had a cute form, and asked me if I could get him an introduction. He confessed he had never seen the midster before, and that he knew that fact must make him seem illiterate, but what could he do? He was working in pictures all the time! The Orpheum started to read Dave's mind, but quit, nobody knew why, only going so far as to tell him he would like to see him at New York soon. So far as Dave's last band was concerned, all Dave had to say was that, being blindfolded, they had an ally.

The only comment Dave had to make on Santucci's accordion playing was that he never did not play with his music. And he also put Si Jenks and Victoria Allen, hickory nuts, with their petrifed jokes, away back on the bench, too, though he said he'd mark up a couple on Miss Allen's voice.

Grace Wilson and Ben Larson scored with Dave and called forth his ringing laughter, especially when one of "em, we didn't know which he was danced to the musical score on the rack.

Jack Gray and Mary Norman hit at the heels for a regular run with Dave. Miss Norman's prettiness and the Kewpie dance novelty being to the fore, and when the fun-loving can Ade did their final airy cowering stunt, Dave was willing to give 'em all the gate money!

I promised the rising young actor a prescription as pay for helping me out, and he was so overcome with my generosity that tears came to his eyes.

"If it had only been a recipe it would have been all right!" said the good-hearted lad.

REVIEWS.

FRISKY COMEDY BILL.

GRAUMAN SHOW IS PLEASING LAUGH-SEEKERS.

By Edwin Schallert.

If you're trying to reduce, training for a Marathon, or anything like that, why Grauman's Theater is going to spell doom for you this week, but if you're wildly determined to chuckle and grow portly or plump and become plump everything will be chemically perfect. Which means, of course, that the program is a smile from the first flicker to the last flash.

Comedy of complications view with comedy of jazz in blaring forth the laugh. Bryant Washburn does the overefficiency in the former and Harold Lloyd, the frisky business in the latter. And everybody knows the bright particular vintage of humor in which these two ingenious chaps put the raisins.

Washburn's "A Full House" ranks better than at least two pairs of features he has made lately. It's a frolicking farce concerning the theft of a famous ruby necklace, an exchange of suitcases, an unlikely lawyer, a lucky crook (for a while), a lucky-unlucky servant girl. If you put all this together you will come somewhere near the aggregate effect, but it's too much exertion and quite futile to explain what the whole thing is about.

Bryant Washburn holds a passion for virtue, his expression dimpled and his tortured expression—which naturally helps to make him a favorite—very expressive. He is, as Lois Wilson draws a clever straight portrait, and others who fill their roles capably are Little Williams, Vera Lewis, Guy Milham and Hazel Howell. S. Wall Covington does a good act.

Harold Lloyd is not hitting it too high and dizzy as he did last time, but his "Get Out and Get Under" doesn't need any extra praise. Just what Lloyd can accomplish with a flapper doesn't need the greatest stretch of imagination to comprehend, but you'll have several surprises this time, if not quite as many thrills as "His and Hers."

The atmospheric prologue is the quiet relief. Some of the Spanish dancing is, however, very exhilarating. This production is a tabloid of the best scene in the Mission Play.

VARIED SPECIALS ON PANTAGES PROGRAM.

It's a vaudeville show with special features, this week at Pantages Theater. That is to say, if you're looking for something spectacular you'll have it in "The Kremlin of Moscow," which is a feature act, and if you're anxious to see a strong virile western story on the screen you'll enjoy this week's production of "Lahoma."

MANY CLIMAXES.

Allan Dwan Will Try Some New Experiments.

According to a statement from Associated First National Pictures, Inc., Allan Dwan's forthcoming production, "In the Heart of a Fool," has enough big situations to provide strong climaxes for several average productions, a half-dozen powerful scenes being distributed through the production.

Dwan's use of six climaxes will mark a new and courageous departure in dramatic construction. The precepts of dramatics usually provide for only one climax at the conclusion of the story. But the fearless Dwan has employed the technique of a serial writer, closing each reel with a big scene. Although each of the scenes has the merit of a climax, it is said to be woven into the action, and instead of retarding the development serves as a stage of progress in the unfolding of the plot.

STUDIO RECEPTION.

Stellar Assemblies to Great Governor Cox.

With the announcement that the hour of the reception to be tendered Gov. James M. Cox at the Hollywood studio, has been changed from 8 o'clock this morning to 1:30 this afternoon, came an additional flood of acceptance from leading people of the cinema world.

Associated First National Pictures, Inc., under whose auspices the affair will be held, are laying elaborate plans for the occasion. The committee, under the leadership of Allen Holubar, and consisting of Katherine MacDonald, Marshall Neilan, Dorothy Phillips, King Vidor, Harry Thurman, George Ben, Allan Dwan, Al Kaufman, Marjorie Daw, P. B. Fineman, Sol Lesser, A. J. Calkins, and many other big stars and directors, has arranged a program which will be as follows:

ODD SETTINGS IN MUSICAL SHOW.

Are you a connoisseur of futuristic or cubist art? If so, you'll get a royal kick out of "Step Lively," the new musical comedy show, which is playing at the Burbank Theater.

Odd costumes and scenery are helping considerably to dazzle the eye along with the Bally Dolls in Ed Armstrong's new production.

A RIVERSIDE GIRL WHO KEPT CLIMBING.

Veteran Los Angeles players who attend the superba for the third week of "The Devil's Pansky" will be in one of the featured players a girl who won her first dramatic laurels from the city's speaking stage of ten years ago. She is Maude George, who plays the daring role of the blackmailing Parisian modiste. Miss George was born in Riverside and made her first stage appearance with the Burbank Stock Company here.

PICTURES OF POPE AT TALLY THEATRE.

An added attraction at Tally's Broadway, with the feature, "The Price of Redemption," starring Bert Lytell, is the showing of the first motion picture ever made of Pope Benedict XV in the Vatican at Rome on the occasion of the Knights of Columbus pilgrimage to the Eternal City.

GUTERSON TO DIRECT GRAUMAN ORCHESTRA.

The list of noted musical artists and directors who have made Los Angeles their home received a notable addition yesterday with the announcement that Sid Grauman has secured Misha Guterson, the violinist-director, to succeed Arthur Kay as conductor of Grauman's Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Guterson will take charge of the orchestra next Monday morning and will make his first appearance as director and soloist the following Sunday.

AND CENTER ON LAW.

Appointment until 2 o'clock today yesterday asked for and obtained from U. S. District Judge by attorneys on both sides. The suit brought by the Federal government to enjoin the California Raisin Corporation, a private corporation, from acts which are coercive, monopolistic and in restraint of the Sherman Antitrust Law.

Hearing was to have been held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, but at that hour, attorneys for the Raisin Corporation, and the Federal government, both sides, were unable to appear. The hearing was postponed until 10 o'clock today. It is hoped that in this case, as in the case of the Raisin Corporation, the court will be able to settle the matter in a short time, and to avoid a trial. It is in the main, to question the validity of the contract between the Raisin Corporation and the Federal government, who is here in the name of the independent.

Mr. A. Anderson, who charges that the Raisin Corporation is in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Law, and who is here in the name of the independent.

the Sky and Oaks Roof Great Agricultural Exhibit.

Looking Along Aisles of National Tractor and Implement Show.

SHOW FARMING MADE EASY.

Twenty Thousand Attend the Opening of Verdugo Woodlands Classic.

BY CLYDE C. HURLEY.

A cloudless September sky, and a hundred majestic oaks form the only roof to the most complete exhibit of mechanical power for the farm ever held in the West, the National Tractor and Implement Show, which opened yesterday at Verdugo Woodlands, Glendale.

So many farmers, dealers and city folk came to see this unique, far-reaching power farming exhibit yesterday that lack of parking space forced some to postpone their visit to another day. There were fully 20,000 visitors the first day. The show will continue until Sunday night.

When the Tractor and Implement Dealers' Association proposed to hold a power farming show in the open, there was a raising of eyebrows back East, and many facetious queries, as, "Have you fixed the weather man on this?" were sent across the Rockies. But the Southern California used persuasive methods with the National Implement Vehicle Association, so it was decided to hold the 1920 fall tractor show at Glendale, under the blue California sky. Exhibitors have sent machines and farm tools from fourteen States, and all the farming world within a few days' run of Los Angeles is coming to see them.

SHOW MANY MAKES.

There are forty-two different makes of tractors on view; eleven implement lines, and innumerable appliances to make farming better and take the drudgery out of it. The ponderous fifty-horse-power crawler tractor is ranged alongside of the little hand-guided garden tractor designed to replace one horse. Deep tillage tools which disturb the soil five feet below the surface are compared with the wheel hoe of the backyard gardener.

So, when the farmer leaves his plow in the field this week and gathering up his family, turns the nose of the eight-cylinder in the direction of Verdugo Woodlands, he is in a fair way to putting in the best day's farming he has ever done, for the National Tractor Show is a liberal education in modern farming methods.

Tractor and implement manufacturers during the past two years have been earnestly hearkening to the special needs of the Southwestern farmer. As a result, machines and tools specially designed for work in cotton, bean and beet fields, and in citrus and deciduous fruit orchards have been evolved, and many of these are seen here for the first time at the show. Tractor wheels and tracks are now spaced to run in between the rows of the crops raised in this part of the country; machines have been built lower to get in under the trees in the orchards, and implements which do better work than the old under semi-arid conditions are shown.

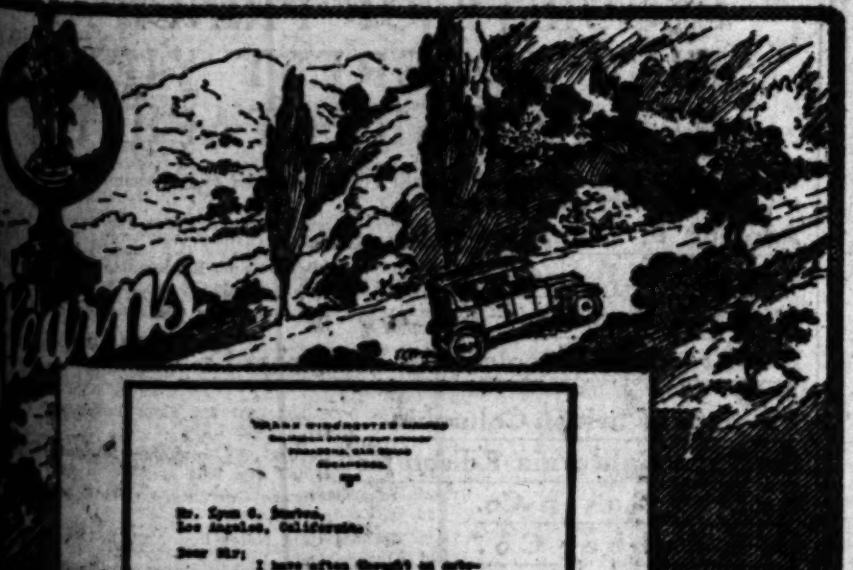

How the drudgery is being taken out of farming is graphically shown by the exhibits of modern appliances. You milk the cows by electricity, churn the butter by the same means, mix the feed for them and grind the alfalfa in the same way. Meanwhile, the wife starts the family wash by pressing a button, starts the noon-day meal in an electric cooker, or turning on the electric fan, reads the morning newspaper.

FUN AND INSTRUCTION.

Guy H. Hall, manager of the five great national tractor shows, so far held, is providing amusement and recreation for visitors to the show. There are band concerts for the wives, swings and slides for the children, and lectures on how best to farm with machines for the men. There is an excellent commissary on the grounds, comfort stations are provided, and the site is well lighted at night. Probably 400 dealers and sales and service men are at their booths to explain their wares.

The national tractor show is laid out into avenues and streets, and attractive, uniform signs show where the different lines are located. Sawdust streets, which are sprinkled daily, lead between the oaks, underneath which the displays are made.

There are many ways to reach the show. From the Los Angeles business district, the most direct route is via San Fernando Road, Glendale Avenue, Opendale, and the Verdugo Canyon Road, or the Verdugo Road may be taken at Glendale Park. From the western and northwestern districts of the city, Los Feliz Road may be followed to Glendale Avenue, Glendale.

Dr. Sam A. Buxton, Los Angeles, California.

Dear Sir,

I have often thought of anti-wrinkle cream as being a pretty thing and to carry all the wrinkles away from the face. But when I got the real one, it was a revelation in skin care.

The writer, of course, is the remarkable feature, but besides that, the cream keeps the skin moist and soft and it is not only a joy to use but it is a real comfort to the skin.

Just a little "wrinkle cream" and then by your own hand, you can have a face that is as young as a girl's.

My opinion of the cream may be best expressed in the fact that I have been using it for many years and I am still as young as I feel.

Very truly yours,

Sam A. Buxton, Los Angeles, California.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Doheny Pins Faith in Mexico; Clearings for Week Nearly $100,000,000.

BY CHAPIN MALL.

The recent acquisition by the Doheny companies of 100,000 acres of new oil lands in Mexico is attracting the attention of the oil world both local and at large, for it is recognized that it is to Mexico we must look for a maintenance of the supply required to meet the ever-increasing demand.

It was to be expected that the far-sighted policy of the Los Angeles wizard would be exercised in reducing this knowledge to a working basis, but the magnitude of the new deal is rather staggering, even to those of his associates here who are more or less accustomed to his wholesale manner of acquisition.

The new acreage, which is just north of the Tampico district, will more than double the present lease of the Mexican Petroleum Company and will bring the total up to 1,400,000 acres.

The details of the transaction are to be fully set out in the next annual report, but it is known that the lands leased were owned by former President Manuel Gonzalez. The rights to drill for oil were obtained from the present owners.

The new territory, according to Mr. Doheny, shows great oil seepage and adds materially to the life of the Mexican Petroleum and American properties. Certain geologists, it is stated, estimate that there is more oil underlying the new leases than under Mexican Petroleum's old territory. What this may mean can be estimated from the fact that the largest well in the world, the Cerro Azul, is the property of Mexican Petroleum.

The new holdings represent about 900 square miles, and the deal is one of the largest concluded in recent years in the Mexican oil fields. Mr. Doheny was first over the property twenty years ago, and an effort was made at that time to get control of the territory. It is probable that no extensive improvement operations will be started for some time, as an intensive drilling campaign is going forward on the old properties.

BIG CLEARING FIGURES.
Bank clearings for Los Angeles last week were just short of the $100,000,000 mark and exceeded the highest preceding week by $15,000,000. The total was $99,792,952.10.

PAYEE BONDS.
Bond & Goodwin are offering $1,500,000 Payee Bonds Phonograph Company three-year 8 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, protected by an annual sinking fund of $400,000 to be used in purchasing or calling the bonds up to 1933. The issue is offered to yield 8 1/2 per cent.

FOOD IN RESERVE.
A large stock of foodstuffs for the week is noted in the report made yesterday by Los Angeles warehouses. Egg reserves have declined to 72,454 cases from 71,820 cases. This compares with 101,487 cases for the corresponding time last year. Butter on hand totals 427,954 pounds, an increase over 1919 of about 450,000 pounds, but a decline for the week of 48,000 pounds. Cheese stocks remain fairly steady with 1,922,894 pounds on hand. A week ago there was 1,137,000 pounds of cheese on hand. Potatoes, which were 10,447,476 bushels last year, are coming into the market and while the reserve is far below last year, when there were 100,851 bushels in local warehouses, it is more than double the holdings indicated by the report of the preceding week. Potatoes were practically no change with 2440 bags and onions have increased from 11,145 bags last week to present holdings of 21,818 bags.

OUR SWEET TOOTH.
The high cost of sugar apparently had little effect upon our national sweet tooth for we consumed 90.6 pounds of the commodity for the fiscal year against 82 pounds in 1919. More than 11,000,000 pounds were available for the markets of this country, and the net amount consumed was 722,900 pounds. These figures are illuminating in view of the outcry against the cost of sugar and the assurance given by many persons that they had banished the output until the price declined.

PORT TERMINAL.
San Francisco is to have a $2,300,000 port terminal, six stories high, which will dock the largest ships and tremendously increase cargo and dock space. Importations of green coffee passing through the port of San Francisco last year reached 1,165,583 bags valued at $6,000,000. Prior to 1914 most of the Central American coffee business was in German hands.

LEMON IMPORTS.
Lemon growers of Southern California are suffering this year from an avalanche of imports which have forced the price of the home product to a lower level than has been reached for several years. One of the first things the new administration will be asked for is the replacement of a reasonable tariff for the protection of the millions of the American capitalist tied up in this industry. In the meantime the 1920 crop is being salvaged as completely as possible, but the growers are not enthusiastic over such figures as

FIFTY LURE.

Our lure is actually fifty. Bank tellers at other banks who have hands large sums of currency say that not for many years has our paper money had such a good reception. Especially the bills of smaller denomination give signs of hard usage, and frequent handling. Old-timers sigh for the days when there was nothing but yellow boys.

An Income that is Certain.

Foremost in your mind as you invest your savings and surplus funds are the two paramount considerations—safety of principal and certainty of income.

Your mind is set at ease by an investment in China Mail Steamship Corporation First Mortgage 8% Serial Gold Bonds by predominate features of basic soundness.

The Corporation shows earnings many times interest charges. For the year ending December 31, 1919, net income, after deducting operating expenses, Federal Income and Successor Profits Taxes, amounted to $700,522.92. This is over eight times the interest on these bonds.

The Corporation is engaged in one of the safest and most profitable transportation callings.

It operates three vessels whose combined tonnage is 19,210 over established trade routes between San Francisco and the Orient.

The vessels securing these bonds are protected against physical injury from any cause other than fire by the broadest form of marine insurance amounting to over $4,000,000. Insurance moneys paid on account of any actual or constructive total loss must be used to replace the vessels.

A sinking fund operates quarterly to pay bonds, thus constantly increasing security.

Do not hesitate to investigate today this security as an investment for your funds. You can learn all about it—without obligation—simply calling in person, writing or planning for descriptive information. Ask for it today.

First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds

The Real Estate Mortgage as a type of investment is as old as civilization, but the Real Estate Mortgage Bond is a comparatively new development based on the mortgage. The Real Estate Mortgage Bond, which is simply a high-grade mortgage split up into convenient denominations, enables the smaller investor to share the advantages of the very highest grade.

The Bonds listed below are of this type. They are absolute First Class Mortgages on high-class California income-producing properties and in each case the income equity is unusually ample. The bonds are exempt from California property tax and interest is payable without deduction for normal Federal Income Tax not exceeding 25%. Application has been made to the superintendent of banks to certify them as a legal investment for the funds of savings banks in California, and the bonds are sold subject to full certification.

Are you looking for a safe, sure way to demonstrate to your family to care you?

Our business is organized for the protection of your family. We have special machinery which eliminates all risk and which turns out a more certain and profitable investment.

Because of the very limited supply of our bonds we are constantly receiving orders for them. We are offering a limited amount of our bonds to be used in the purchase of a new home and in establishing a saving plan for the future.

Call of our office and a visit to our headquarters.
